MEET OUR SPEAKERS

► Kelly Malloy, OD — is an Associate Professor at the Pennsylvania College of Optometry at Salus University, where she specializes in neuro-ophthalmic disease. She is the Director of the Neuro-Ophthalmic Disease Specialty Clinical Service at The Eye Institute, and has achieved Diplomate status in this specialty at the American Academy of Optometry (AAO). Besides her clinical patient care responsibilities, she also teaches the Neuro-Ophthalmic Disease course at Salus.

► Christopher Wroten, OD — graduated from Southern College of Optometry (SCO), prior to completing a Residency in Hospital-based Primary Eye Care at the Memphis Veterans Affairs Medical Center. After 2 years on staff at West Tennessee Eye in the greater Memphis area, Dr. Wroten returned home to Louisiana in the summer of 2005 to become a partner in what is now the Bond-Wroten Eye Clinics, with 3 offices in southeast Louisiana. As the clinic's Chief Operating Officer, he also supervises its Family Practice Residency and Optometric Externship Programs, both of which he founded. In that capacity, he has received appointments as Adjunct Faculty at SCO, UAB, and the Rosenberg School of Optometry at the University of Incarnate Word. Dr. Wroten has twice been elected President of the Optometry Association of Louisiana, serves on its Education & Legislative Committees, has Moderated the AOA's Presidents' Council since 2013, and sits on the AOA's Federal Relations Committee. He has received state, regional, and national professional awards, and also serves on numerous optometry- and non-optometry-related boards and committees. He has participated in clinical research, authored clinical case reports and eye care articles, lectured as a continuing education speaker, and presented educational posters and workshops at regional and national optometric conferences. In addition to primary eye care, Dr. Wroten's special areas of interest lie in the treatment & management of ocular disease and in the fitting of specialty contact lenses.
